

Komoro Dokansho Festival

Dokansho Festival is participated by 2,000 people from each district of Komoro City and many businesses every year. They dance down the streets of downtown Komoro to the tune of Komoro Dokansho, whose title comes from the thundering sound of eruption of Mt. Asama. Dancers can dance in any way, and they can wear any outfit they like. There are many stall vendors and stage performances, which give you true joy of summer festivals.

Schedule	Saturday, August 6
Location	Downtown Komoro, near Komoro Station
Contact	Commerce, Industry and Tourism Division, Komoro City Government TEL: +81-267-22-1700
Website	http://www.city.komoro.lg.jp/ (Japanese with a machine translation system)
Access	By train: Take a Shinano Railway train from Karuizawa Station on Hokuriku Shinkansen, and get off at Komoro Station. By car: About 10-min. drive from the Komoro Exit on the Joshin'etsu Expressway By express bus: Take an express bus from Shinjuku or Ikebukuro in Tokyo, and get off at Komoro Station.